

Questions:

Has the lake been retested lately and if so, the results.

I was just wondering if there was an estimate for when the lake will be back open to swimming.

Answer:

The most recent weekly water test came back as 170,000 ppml. State guidelines state that public swimming areas must be closed when blue/green algae counts are over 100,000 ppml. In order to reopen a swimming area water tests taken over a two week period must show results under 100,000 ppml.
